Extension Division Scientific Presentation

Recollections of my 50-Year Association with Hyman Spotnitz

Robert Marshall, PhD discusses his long and varied experience with Dr. Hyman Spotnitz in individual and group analysis, supervision, and informal settings. This first-hand account throws new light on Spotnitz in the consultation room as compared with his writings and public appearances. For those who have worked with Spotnitz, this presentation is an opportunity to compare experiences. For those who have not, it gives meaningful insight into a master clinician at work and at play. The audience is invited to participate. Dr. Sara Sheftel is moderator.

Robert J. Marshall, PhD, is a training and supervising analyst on the faculty at CMPS. He is a Diplomate in Clinical Psychology, ABPP and has authored over thirty articles and chapters including, "Resistant Interactions: Child, Family, & Therapist." Dr. Marshall is co-author with Simone Marshall, PhD, of The Transference-Countertransference Matrix: The Emotional-Cognitive Dialogue in Psychotherapy, Psychoanalysis, and Supervision.

Modern Psychoanalysis rests on the theoretical framework and clinical approach of Sigmund Freud and the innovative techniques of Hyman Spotnitz and Phyllis W. Meadow. It aims to loosen repetitive and rigid patterns of thinking and behavior allowing for growth and maturation. This approach has revolutionized the psychoanalytic field and proven valuable to those working in social work, mental health, education, the law, business and the arts.

The Center for Modern Psychoanalytic Studies (CMPS) holds an absolute charter from the State of New York to offer a Certificate in Psychoanalysis and is recognized by the State of New York as a licensure-qualifying institute for those seeking licensure in psychoanalysis.
